

The REVELATION of Jesus Christ

Sunday, February 24, 2008

CHAPTERS TWENTY ONE AND TWENTY TWO – BEHOLD, I MAKE ALL THINGS NEW

Today is our final message in the book of Revelation. In these last 16 verses God leaves the chronological narrative behind and brings the revelation to a close – this ending comes in the form of an _____. An epilogue directly addresses the reader (or spectator); it includes the recap of principle matters and offers concluding instructions designed to provoke the individual to a _____ in thought or behavior.

This incredible book was written to show the servants of God things which must shortly come to pass. With each fleeting day we close the gap between the events of our lives and the Revelation of Jesus Christ. God being the ultimate author, eloquently details his _____ inspired words to mankind in the form of admonitions, invitations, a promise, and a prayer in order to provoke us to _____ our earthy thoughts and behavior.

GOD'S CONCLUSION TO REVELATION – REVELATION 22:6-21

1. Admonitions – Revelation 22:6-16, 18-19

- _____ the book – verses 6-7

- _____ God – verses 8-9

- _____ the book – verse 10

- _____ God – verses 11-16

- Do _____ mess with the book – verses 18-19
 - Do not _____ to the words of the book; do not _____ from the words of the book – or you will reap what you sow...

 - Three times God admonishes us with this command:
Once in the beginning of the Bible – Deut. 4:2
Once in the middle of the Bible – Pr. 30:6
Once at the end of the Bible – Rev. 22:18-19

2. Invitations – Revelation 22:17

- From:
 - The _____ of God
 - The church age _____ of God
 - _____ else who hears and receives

- To:
 - Anyone that thirsts... _____
 - Whosoever will... _____

- The cost
 - _____

3. The last _____ in the Bible – Revelation 22:20a

- Surely I come quickly

4. The last _____ in the Bible – Revelation 22:20b

- Even so, come, Lord Jesus

CONCLUSION

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

THE END

NEXT WEEK: SPECIAL SERVICE – To God be the Glory