

Today our study of Genesis leads us into the generations of chapter 5—a _____ of the descendants of Adam down through the time of Noah and his sons. It is peculiar that most believers will study lists of their stock results, banking and investment sheets, e-bay type files, merchandise catalogs, and endless sports statistics, and yet skip over the genealogical lists found in the Bible. They relegate these biblical lists to the junk heap of _____ information. However, these lists are part of the preserved revelation from God to mankind. The Bible says, “All scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable,” therefore we should pay close attention to every _____.
